This Week:

Program: Supporting Our Troops

Can you believe it has been over 5 years since Gordon Browning started this wonderful project. Well, he is back to give us a complete report on what we as a club has sent so far and how many smiles have we created. This project has become so popular that it actually has spread beyond club level. He has gotten participation and contributions from people outside of the club and he'll talk about that as well. Gordon promised it will be a very informative and fun program.

Next Week:

Last week we've heard from a CEO's perspective on healthcare reform. Next week we'll get to hear from a physician's perspective. Dr. Bart Wald, Regional Medical Director of HealthCare Partners San Gabriel Valley will give us his take on healthcare reform. Maybe he won't dodge the tough questions from Richard.

Last Week:

Allen Miller, CEO of COPE Health Solutions, revealed the changes in health care environment due to the new health care reform. With millions more soon to be insured, the demand will skyrocket; and with all the mandated health benefits, the cost will be out of control. Miraculously, somehow all these suppose to save taxpayers money! To compound the problem, there will be a shortage of family practitioners and nurses. It will be a challenging road ahead for the health care profession in general.

Special Announcements:

Dr. Mike Hendricks, the new Superintendent of the Charter Oak USD has been proposed for membership by Brian Akers. The board has unanimously accepted the proposal. Pretty soon, we're all going to say Clint who?

Mark Your Calendar: Mt. Sac Annual Wassail Dinner & Concert will be Thurs. night Dec. 2. Richard and Mt. Sac Foundation offers to host a wine and cheese reception an hour before the event for us Rotarians only. What a guy!

Meet Our Newest Member

Jill Jacobs was proposed by Rob Curry as a corporate member. She grew up in Glendale, CA and even attended law school there. After she passed the bar ~ 9 years ago, she got bored and decided to attend USC for her masters in Healthcare Administration. She has practiced as a defense attorney for the healthcare industry before becoming corporate vice-president of Citrus Valley Health Partners. She is in charge of Compliance, Privacy and Risk Management department. Her significant other is a mortgage broker in Irvine.

Jill is an all-year-round athletic individual. She likes to hike, bike, golf and ski. We are very fortunate to have Jill as a member in our club. Welcome, Jill!!!
