LAST WEEK: Lisa Foust of CVHP

We now know a lot more about the way Citrus Valley Health Partners hires and effectively retains employees. It appears they have developed a method that helps cure the revolving door phenomenon.

NEXT WEEK: Mara Protas of ICMC

She's back! Mara returns to talk with EMT – Emotional Freedom Technique, aka: Acupuncture without needles.

A Quick Fundraiser:

We recently were given the opportunity to join forces with Pomona Rotary to sell raffle tickets at the L.A. County Faire for their yearly Corvette Raffle. The tickets we sold last Friday, with the help of our wonderful Interact Club, yielded a profit of $5 per ticket. Exactly how much did we earn? The answer to that question and twelve additional mysteries of the universe will be revealed by President Sue over the course of her Presidency.

Thanks for taking a shift: Interact Club, Andy, Jerry & Marci, Craig & Debbie, Sue & Terry, Shirley & Wes

Public Safety Announcements:

Contact Dennis Doyel at ddoyel@crowellweedon.com for his up-to-date forecast as to where his newly licensed son will be driving this month. Be alert – it could save your rear bumper.

President Sue has put a new spin on fines by calling them Financial Recognition Points. Undoubtedly, this is her attempt to make us feel eager to be fined. Perhaps her next ploy will be to induce guilt by referring to them as alms for the poor.

- Sunday, October 23 – All Shook Up and Dinner
