WYSOCKI-LEAKS

In a Herculean feat of unethical journalistic behavior, your intrepid Wheel Editor has in his possession, the uncensored, unedited email and twitter communications of our Covina Rotary President Sue Wysocki. Embarrassing as this may be, (for me, not Sue), I feel duty-bound to exercise my 1st Amendment right to share this information with my Covina Rotary brethren. And besides, if she really wanted these communications to remain secret she would have hid them in the same place as Barack Obama's birth certificate and college transcripts.

These messages contain some truly shocking revelations that span the length of the Wysocki Presidency, and quite frankly, will likely shake it to its core. I have provided several for your perusal, except for the few I've held back in case my 2011 fine budget goes up exponentially. Here we go:

Wow, I'm Rotary President. Finally. Wonder how long til I get the RI Presidency. Klinginsmith probably doesn't even do his own taxes. This is change you can believe in, baby. Had a great time at A Mac's house for Shirley's kick out. She sure looked happy. Wonder what that's all about? -- Sue via e-mail June 10, 2010

Back from Montreal, RI Conv. Fired up and ready to inspire Covina Rotary. Just saw a news report said Montreal is facing a huge wine shortage. From what I can remember, seems to me we had plenty to drink. Curious. – Sue via Twitter Sue W. June 24, 2010*

To all my tax clients. Tax cut legislation a lock. No worries Will be wrapped up soon. -- Sue Via Twitter June 26, 2010*

Shirley, thanks for the "Covina Rotary President's Box of Secrets." Christmas in July. Ha, Ha. Feel like I'm part of the President's club now. Just like you said, I'll only open in case of emergency. – Sue via email Thurs July 5, 2010*

Where does the time go. Busy preparing for Rotary. Having work to do is certainly a joy. – via Twitter 1am Wed July 10

Board meeting, two committee meetings, we have no program for next Thurs, and what was Dennis thinking when he wrote that last Wheel. Still no clarity on 2011 tax rates. – Sue via Twitter Thurs. Aug 19, 2010

If tax cut legislation isn't approved, my butler Jeeves is going to have a very rough 2011. Sue via email Aug 20, 2010

The box. The box. The box. – Sue via Twitter – Sept. 2, 2010

Jeeves just informed me his name is really Darin. We'll see about that Jeeves. via Twitter Thurs Sept. 9, 2010

To all my tax clients. Got my new CPA tax software today. Will be a breeze this year. What ever you made...send it in.*

I've included an envelope for your convenience. via email Nov 1, 2010

To All: Opened the box. Had ear muffs, three bottles of Pinot, book titled "101 ANECDOTES FROM PRETEND RELATIVES Vol I" and instructions on how to get an unlisted phone number. Sorry Terry, best gift I ever got. Sue via Twitter Nov 18*

To All: Tax Cuts pass. It's a Christmas miracle. Jeeves, Champagne to my real friends, and real pain to my sham friends. – Sue via email Dec 16, 2010*

To all Covina Rotarians: Citizen of the Year awards dinner is Jan 27, 2011, honoring Bill McIntyre. Bill has been a great supporter of Cov. Rotary. We are contributing funds for a table. Sue via email Dec. 17, 2010*

To all Covina Rotarians: Great Christmas luncheon at Hamiltons last Thurs. Richard Morley is Pres. Elect Elect. Hope he likes wine. – Sue via Twitter Fri. Dec. 17, 2010*

To all Covina Rotarians: Thanks to your efforts, and of course Linda Logan, Covina Cares a smashing success. 216 Families had a better Christmas because of you. Bravo. Sue via email Tue Dec 28, 2010*

How many days to the Kick Out? I can't find the ear muffs, Amazon is sold out of "Pretend Relatives II" and what's Craig Cerro going to do with three empty bottles of wine? – Sue via Twitter Wed. Dec 29, 2010

To all Covina Rotarians: A-Mac has today's program.*

To all Covina Rotarians: I wish you a very Happy, Healthy, and Prosperous 2011. Dennis via the Wheel
