THIS WEEK.....

Jim Rector

It may look like Gilligan's Island but it's really Baja, Mexico and the San Javier Clinic. The clinic was the brain child of Rotarians Jim Rector and Hank Vagt in 1995. Although Hank is no longer with us, Jim carries on the tradition of promoting their dream by organizing teams of doctors, dentists, ophthalmologists, nurses and other kind hearted people to travel to a very poor area of Mexico and provide much needed services. In addition to telling us about the clinic, Jim will most certainly be accepting applications for volunteers who want to help out in Baja.

Last Week : Dr. Catherine Nichols

The Rotarian Inquirer Magazine has revealed that Dr. Nichols enjoyed a moment of reckless abandon last week after speaking to Covina Rotary about Proposition CC. Until now, it was only a rumor that she wore non-business attire? What wild mayhem is next on her agenda?

Next Week :

HERE'S A LITTLE ABOUT CONNIE AND HER VOICE OVER EXPERIENCE IN HER OWN WORDS:

Was the Event Coordinator for VOICE 2010! I love all variations of voice performance and place that passion into every read. I have studied Animation, Commercial, Industrial, and Narration. I am constantly keeping the chops in tune by continuing to study with such great talents like: MJ Lallo, Pat Fraley, Marc Cashman, to name but a few, and numerous other extremely talented Voice professionals. I am a 2008 Audie Award Nominee. I was also Team Leader for the Voice 2008 Conference. I am also a proud member of Women In Animation and the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators.

Thanks to Harry and Barbara Borak for hosting the Membership Development Party.....as well as Tricia Vagt with Don Brown for all their hard work in keeping our booth manned at Thunderfest.
