Thought for the week:

The difference between mediocrity and greatness is extra effort

This Week:

On Jan. 16th, our speaker will be Nikolai Grant, one of the partner/owners of Books Inc. which is one of the West Coast's oldest independent book stores.

He will talk about the ever changing book industry. Books

Inc is headquartered in San Francisco and has 11 locations at this time. Nikolai is Steve Mathis son-in-law.

Next Week:

On Jan 23rd our speaker will be Shamim Wu, Vice President of Holiday Retirement and she will talk to us about the options for Senior Retirement living. Shamim has been a featured contributor to the California Assisted Living Association (CALA) and is a member of the Assisted Living Federation of America (ALFA) Sales and Marketing Executive Roundtable. She has also been featured in Senior Living Executive and Real Simple magazines.

Last Week:

The speaker for Jan. 9th was Cary Presant, MD. He discussed medical record keeping, doctor visits, documentation, medication prescribing, decreasing networks, and the importance of keeping your own medical record. Lina Ledford's husband attested to Dr. Presant's medical expertise in treating his medical condition. Dr. Presant brought copies of his book Surviving American Healthcare which was available for purchase. A most insightful and informative presentation and appropriate to the healthcare issues of our day.
