

THIS WEEK:

APRIL KELCY
Earthquake Solutions

April is an emergency management consultant and the founder of Earthquake Solutions. While her firm is based in Monrovia, she assists others in preparing for all types of major disasters in a manner that is specific to her clients' needs and risks. To her credit, April's emergency plans are two-fold. She helps clients be prepared so that they can minimize any damage and injury. She also provides them with a plan to deal with the aftermath of disasters. This keeps recovery time at a minimum and there is far less trauma overall.

April has received numerous awards for her work in wildfire recovery, large scale earthquake drills, and projects for Homeland Security. Some of her clients include individuals, communities, schools, government agencies, financial institutions, huge corporations, small businesses, hospitals, and law enforcement agencies. April's next client just might be YOU.

Last Week: Dominic Lopez shared his experiences in working with our veteran population – especially those in great need. In response to your question – No, that is not Dominic in the photograph.

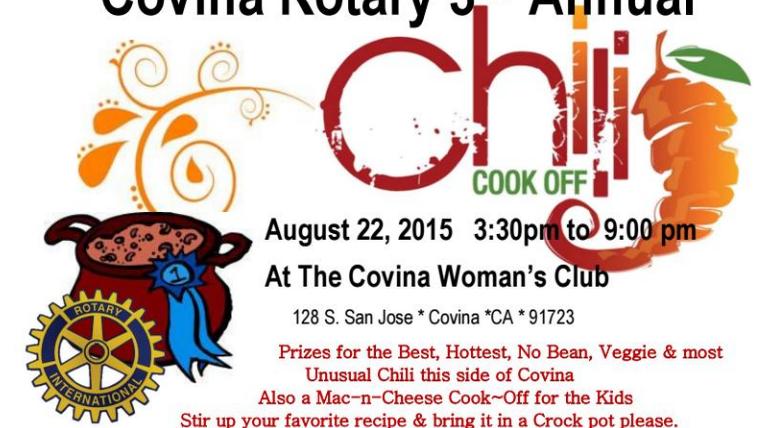

NORTH TO ALASKA

Following the recent sad news that our very own Fred Madjar and Ron Firestone would be leaving our club, Sue Wysocki and Shirley Harrison wandered all over Alaska and the Yukon Territory with Terry and John to search for prospective new Covina Rotary members. Dan Banh and his family were in Toronto on a similar mission. Patricia Harvey assured the travelers that their costs would be covered under the club's budget for membership development. Hopefully, nothing was lost in translation.
