A HEARTFELT MESSAGE FROM STEVE.....

Once again I am looking for volunteers to guard the flags overnight. We have three 4-hour shifts, from 8pm to midnight, midnight to 4am and 4am to 8am. Starting on Saturday, November 7th through Sunday November 15th when the ever FABULOUS Field of Valor magically appears in Covina. Don't want to guard 2,000+ flags, rebar pounding could just be the job for you.

FOOT NOTES:

First, Gayle Jett broke her foot and husband Rich swore that he tried to catch her as she fell from the step of their motor home.

Then Alice Patronite broke bones in the front of her foot but hubby Tom down played the situation by saying, "No surgery required..hopefully."

And now there is Tricia Vagt. While recently visiting Andy Garcia's Ice House in Portland, she decided she was not bringing home any humdrum souvenirs. Instead, she selected an elegant blue and black cast for her leg and two ever so stunning metallic crutches to adorne her wardrobe on the flight home. To make the trip even more memorable, she traveled in the Tesla fleet of Eco Cabs.
