

January 14, 2016 Issue #22 Editor: S. J. Harrison

THIS WEEK: Danielle Behler
Development Office at Reagan Ranch Center

A native of Alabama, Danielle received her bachelor's degree in political science from Auburn University. There she became involved in her campus conservatives and interned for U.S. Congressman Bob Riley.

After college, she moved to Washington, D.C., and began her career in the Conservative Movement, serving United States Senator Jeff Sessions from 2004 to 2007. From there, she went on to spearhead development for several conservative non-profit organizations across the country.

Danielle came to Young America's Foundation because of her shared commitment to President Reagan's conservative ideas and principles, and she feels blessed to help the Foundation's supporters ensure their conservative ideals are passed on to future generations.

Next Week: Mark Dederichs, DC shares his work as a chiropractor and acupuncturist

LAST WEEK: RICHARD ROWLEY, DC
Regenerative Orthopedic Clinic

Last week's speaker was scheduled to be Dr. Andrew Keith. However, he was injured and Dr. Richard Rowley graciously took his place to expand our knowledge of stem cell therapy for the treatment of osteoarthritis.

Things you need to know:

From Jon Teran: Reminder there is a Fun Run meeting at my office this Friday morning at 8:30AM. The meeting will be done by 9:30AM at the latest. This is a great committee to be on--especially if you are new to the club and looking for ways to get involved. See you Friday (January 15th): 970 S. Village Oaks Dr, Ste 205, Covina

From Patricia Harvey: Every member has a responsibility to grow our membership. We have plenty reasons to be proud of and everyone in the community should know about us. There should be a sense of pride and honor to become a member of the Greatest Rotary Club in the World. So please make a special effort or a new year's resolution to recruit at least one prospective member per member per year.

From Martin Luther King (born January 15): The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy.

Vilma Escalante (pictured with red badge and surrounded by Andy, Patricia and Harry) has been active in Covina Rotary for quite some time. On January 7th, she was inducted as a full member. Jeannette Castaneda (pictured below) may be the next person to fill the title of "newest Rotarian in the world."

Jeanette lives in West Covina and works at UC Irvine. Her interests include military affairs and Native American families but her son Giovanni is her most likely her first priority. Jeanette has been proposed for membership with Covina Rotary. Please contact a member of our board if you have any concerns about Jeanette joining our club.
